

USING MT4 TO DISPLAY OWN STOCK

©Arryex, 2012

Objective: To display chart for unregistered symbol in MT4

INTRODUCTION

Anyone who has been working with Metatrader knew the following benefits using this software for technical analysis:

- This software is free and easily to download
- It is famous software that widely used for forex, metal, American-European Stocks.
- Huge collection of indicators can be displayed on the Metatrader chart for technical analysis.
- Possible to create own indicators.

By the way, how if you want to analyze the stock that are not available on Metatrader? Some brokers provide Metatrader with all pairs or stock which can be trader directly and they will not provide any symbols that non-tradable. In addition my Stock Broker does not have Metatrader as trading interface.

Imagine, as a stock trader I dream to have my stock on Metatrader, but:

- I have no available software that has capability as Metatrader want to analyze stock.
- I have some Metatrader indicators that really work on forex and want to implement them on stock.
- I am not an intraday trader; hence daily analysis is sufficient for my few days/weekly trades. Or sometime I close my position earlier using Fibonacci expansion/retracement.
- Since you are not member of broker who has Metatrader administrator, then you cannot configure all symbols group, names as well as data feeding on you Metatrader.
- I love to use Metatrader....

SOLUTION

There is only one way to implement your dream to analyze your stock using Metatrader, i.e. Hack it!!

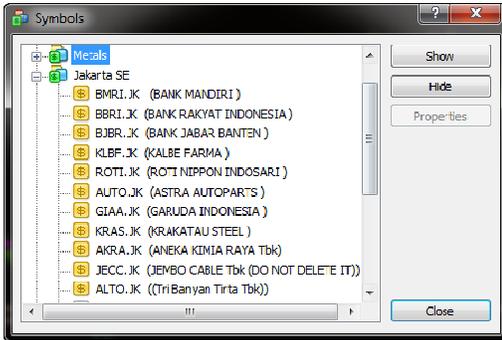

But, you have some limitation suing this method:

- Working only based on your data (usually only daily), since no real time data feeding
- Data importing manually
- Not applicable for intraday trader

Anyway, so far I can use it for m trading style and it works!!!

The following chart will show some screenshot, the Metatrader that has been modified.
